Dear Dr. Keklik,

We have learned of your published research on meat products and would like to invite you to participate in our publishing program.

To learn more about Nova and our recently published books, please visit About Us and our website at novapublishers.com.

We welcome two possible avenues of cooperation (you can select one or both):

1. Your submission of one or more original research or review chapter(s) for our upcoming hardcover edited collection (by selected invitation only) tentatively ent

Meat Products: Chemistry, Consumption and Health Aspects

The deadline for the abstract is April 15, 2020 and for the completed chapter July 15, 2020. Please send the abstract and the chapter to Stella Rosa at nova.main@novapublishers.com. Inclusion in Nova's edited collections is without charge to authors. The only exceptions are color figures if required and an English editing fee if it is determined to be necessary. Enhancement options are available at the author's discretion. Please see the detailed notes for contributors.

We also welcome proposals to serve as the editor of this volume. If you are interested, please send your latest CV to us. Proposals to serve as the editor are welcome up to t

2. Your authorship of a monograph or editorship of an edited collection on a topic of your choice.

The format (monograph or edited collection), approach and the manuscript submission date is at your discretion. If you are interested, please fill in our Book Idea Form and re Alternatively, you can submit your book proposal online. If your book proposal is accepted for publication, we will send our agreement for your evaluation and signature. Your published in printed and electronic formats simultaneously. Some of the benefits of publishing with us include:

- Our publication timeframe is between four and seven months
- Each author will have their own author page in which they can include their website, social media links and, of course, their book(s)
- Each chapter can be purchased separately
- If the published chapter is over fifty book pages, the first author will be provided with a complimentary printed copy of the book
- The Reviews of your book will be posted on our homepage, thus providing more exposure to your book
- Information provided in the questionnaire (such as keywords, biography, journal description and audience) will be included on our website
- We provide a special 30% discount on all prepublication orders
- All our books are sent to major booksellers such as Barnes & Noble and distributors such as Amazon
- All our books are submitted for evaluation to major indexing databases such as SCOPUS, the largest abstract and citation database of peer-reviewed literature

You are welcome to extend this invitation letter on our behalf to your esteemed and recommended colleague(s) active in this field of research.

We look forward to the possibility of working together. We also invite you to visit our office on Long Island or meet with one of our representatives in New York, should such a p Should you have any questions, please contact Stella Rosa at nova.main@novapublishers.com.

Sincerely yours,
